

Practical Economy

Baking powders made from alum or phosphate may be bought for a trifle less than Royal Baking Powder, which is made from cream of tartar, derived from grapes.

Alum powders are not only cheap, but they differ greatly in leavening power.

If a cheap baking powder is used for a fine cake and the cake turns out a failure there is a waste of costly materials worth more than a whole can of the cheap baking powder.

Royal Baking Powder produces the finest food, and its use therefore, results in an actual saving.

ONE of the most delightful affairs of last week was the "500" party for which Dr. and Mrs. T. C. Smith, Jr., were hosts.

Seven tables of "500" were arranged for the guests, who were for the most part members of the Merry-Go-Round club, which is composed of a congenial group of prominent married folk. The high score honors were won by Mrs. Ruben Boise and Russell Catlin.

The residence was decked with clusters of yellow pom-pom chrysanthemums effectively arranged about the rooms. Assisting Mrs. Smith were Mrs. John J. Roberts, Miss Gertrude Gray and Miss Margaret Gray.

Society friends of Mrs. A. Guy Sargent will be pleased to hear that she is at the hospital where she was operated on this morning for appendicitis.

Mrs. David C. Graham (Mildred Bagley) who has been the house guest of Mrs. John H. McNary for a couple of days, returned to Eugene Monday. She was accompanied to Salem by Mr. Graham, who was en route to Portland.

The golf links will be the scene for all golf devotees Sunday, when exhibition matches will be played between six professional golfers of Portland. The visitors will be among Portland's best players, and local enthusiasts undoubtedly will see the most interesting and scientific games ever played on the Salem course.

As a little courtesy to the visiting golfers the club has planned to serve a lunch on the greens during the day.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank G. Myers were hosts for an informal dinner Sunday. Their guests included the members of the family, covers being placed for 15.

Mrs. George H. Alden will leave tomorrow for Albany, Brownsville and Lebanon, where she will give reports of the National Misionary convention which she recently attended in Columbus, Ohio. She will return Friday.

The members of the Woman's Relief Corps sewing society will meet on Thursday (tomorrow) afternoon at the home of Mrs. L. L. McAdams, 245 D street. A good attendance is desired.

Friday afternoon the ladies auxiliary of the Unitarian church will meet at the home of Mrs. Louisa Forstner, 265 North Commercial street.

Mr. and Mrs. O. P. Dabney arrived in Salem yesterday from Hood River en route to Los Angeles, California, where they will pass the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Dabney will be in Salem about two days, Mr. Dabney remaining to attend the Odd Fellows

WILL TRY TO REDUCE COST OF FOOD STUFFS Women Determined to End Monopolizing People's Food Supply

San Francisco, Nov. 22.—Determined to break the increasing cost of food stuffs, which they allege is due to a habit by the food monopolists, club women of San Francisco and the east bay cities are today preparing to circulate petitions asking President Wilson to place an embargo on exportation of wheat, canned goods and other food stuffs.

A meeting of all interested will be held by the Alameda County Federation of Women clubs tomorrow to discuss plans for forcing a change in conditions by seeking establishment of state food markets, boycott of the higher priced articles, banishment of hoarders and bannering of bread, growers, butchers and fruit men are to state their ideas at the meeting.

"We are going to stop this gambling in human life. The monopoly of bread and butter is an outrageous and unnatural monopoly on the sun and air," said Mrs. W. T. Cleveland, president of the Alameda Federation of Women clubs. "Food monopolists have got the habit of raising the price. There is an epidemic of soaring price schedules. Australia is sending flour here because she can get more for her produce in peaceful America than she can in war torn Europe!"

home coming tonight.

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Crawford, 1570 North Winter street a surprise party was given Monday night in celebration of Mr. Crawford's birthday anniversary.

After a pleasant evening—the hostess served refreshments assisted by Miss Lena White. Those gathering for the celebration were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Matlock, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Garland, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Marsh, Mr. and Mrs. N. Matlock, Mr. and Mrs. John Beezley, the Misses Lena White, Delma and Maxine Matlock and Aubrey Crawford.

Since Dr. and Mrs. Parvin formerly lived in Salem the following from the Sunday Oregonian will be of interest to many:

Dr. and Mrs. Z. M. Parvin celebrated their golden wedding anniversary on Saturday, November 11, at their home, 330 East Pory-third street, during the evening Dr. S. A. Starr presided at a ceremony auspicious of the occasion. Dr. Starr and Dr. Parvin were associated as members of the faculty of the Willamette University for 10 years. An interesting and delightful musical programme was given by Mrs. Kiggins, Dr. H. C. Epley, of Salem; Dr. Starr, ex-Governor Geer, Dr. J. E. Hall and the veteran quartet, Dr. Starr and Dr. Parvin are the only survivors of the Willamette University faculty of 1883. Mr. and Mrs. Parvin were married in Bardolph, Ill., November 11, 1866, and the golden wedding anniversary brought together many old friends. Those present were ex-Governor and Mrs. Geer, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Hare, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Hill, Dr. and Mrs. J. E. Hall, Mrs. M. P. Brown, Dr. and Mrs. Starr, Mrs. Williams, V. Z. Brown, W. N. Morse, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Parvin and son, Professor and Mrs. Kiggins, all of Portland. Out of town guests were: Dr. and Mrs. H. C. Epley, of Salem; Mr. and Mrs. Myvin Kreis, Vancouver, Wash.; Dr. (Mrs.) Clinton Cook, Seattle; Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Parvin and children, of Castle Rock, and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Beveridge. Many handsome gifts were showered upon the happy couple.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Grady, who last week were in Salem forming dancing classes, will arrive tomorrow to begin their work for the season. They will be at the Hotel Marion and will come to Salem weekly on Thursdays.

The women's auxiliary of the St. Paul's Episcopal church will meet on Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the residence of Mrs. George A. Wood, 735 North Church street.

WAGES OF VAST ARMY OF EMPLOYEES HIGHER

New York, Nov. 22.—United States Steel Corporation tonight announced an increase of 10 per cent in wages of employees of its steel and iron companies, effective December 15 next.

Wage and salary advances in other departments of the corporation also will be equitably adjusted, it was said. The increase effects in all about 200,000 employees and probably adds nearly $20,000,000 to the corporation's payroll.

"Ordinarily the question of wages would not come up for consideration or decision at this time of the year," said Chairman Albert H. Gary in making the announcement, "but in consequence of the abnormal conditions now existing, it has been decided to increase the wage rate of our iron and steel companies about 10 per cent to take effect December 15. As to other departments, increases will be equitably proportioned."

Next to a domestic tragedy was when the Archduke John, the emperor's nephew and heir to the throne, renounced his royalty, took the name of John Orth and sailed away with the woman he loved. The earth swallowed him up. He has never been heard from since.

A little later the Archduke William Francis Charles, another of the royal family, died from a hunting fall. Then Archduke Ladislaus was horribly wounded by accidental gun fire. Last of all, his heir, the Archduke Francis Ferdinand, who had been forgiven for contracting a morganatic marriage, was assassinated, with his morganatic wife at Sarajevo, Bosnia. It was on the ground that this assassination was done by Serbians that Austria started the great conflagration of the European war by declaring war on Serbia.

AUSTRIAN EMPEROR

foreign office. Late in the afternoon he became suddenly worse. His temperature arose alarmingly. It was obvious then that the end was near.

The Archduchess Maria Valerie assisted the aged ruler to his bed Tuesday night. He was unable to sleep and kept complaining of pains in his throat. At 9 o'clock he appeared more quiet and seemed to be resting. But 20 minutes later he suddenly gasped for his throat, seemed to strive for utterance, and died within a few moments.

The Archduke Charles Francis Joseph, who has been in Vienna for some time, was immediately notified. The telephone connecting Schoenbrunn palace with the German headquarters in the field was used to notify Emperor William of Germany.

It is expected that, in addition to the Kaiser, the czar of Bulgaria and the crown prince of Turkey will attend the funeral.

No complete arrangements for the funeral have been made public. The conference between the Austrian and Hungarian premiers, scheduled at Budapest this week was immediately postponed and the Hungarian cabinet called in special session at once. Count Tisza, the Hungarian premier, left for Vienna immediately.

Is Now No. 133. According to custom, probably the work of embalming the dead emperor's body was begun today. His heart will be removed and placed in a separate receptacle—although this will later be buried with his body.

Sixty-eight years ago, when the last Hapsburg sovereign died, his heart was put in a casket and preserved with 55 other similar urns, each containing the hearts of 55 members of the royal family, in the church of St. Augustine. It was Franz Josef who terminated this ancient custom, issuing a royal decree against it. According to the dead emperor's own wishes, his coffin will be a plain wooden one of oak lined with white satin. It will be placed with royal black velvet and be covered finally in a large metallic sarcophagus in the imperial crypt.

If custom is followed, Franz Josef will not be buried for at least a week. Probably his body will lie in state in the Hofburg Augustiner church, an edifice 400 years old. The interment will be in the imperial crypt under the plain but ancient little church of the Capuchin fathers—for four centuries keepers of the Hapsburg dead.

Franz Josef will be No. 133 in the crypt, but more properly Hapsburg No. 132—one of the 133 bodies being that of a countless companion of the great Maria Theresa, for whose fidelity and love the empress decided the body should rest with her.

Life Filled With Sorrows. Franz Josef was born August 18, 1830. His death ends a reign longer than any in modern history, except that of Louis XIV of France—and Louis, unlike the Hapsburg sovereign, ascended the throne when a mere child of five. It was a reign bathed in blood and shrouded in tragedy. Franz Josef ascended the throne when he was 18 years of age and has therefore held the sceptre of imperial authority for 68 years.

War marked the beginning of his reign, as war marked its close. Domestic tragedies, murders, suicides, violent deaths have desolated his family. His dearest relative, as a child, was his grandfather, a man bowed with the sorrow of having seen his own son, Marie Antoinette, guillotined in Paris. Five years after he had ascended the throne he was severely wounded by a would-be assassin. Wars came next and internal dissensions. Then, in 1889, his only son, the Crown Prince Rudolf, died a violent death near Vienna, the detail of which, even after these years, have never been revealed. It was either a murder or a suicide with the woman he loved—probably no one will ever know. Nine years later, the empress, his consort, was assassinated in Geneva. His favorite niece was next the victim of the family misfortune, burning to death at Schoenbrunn. The Duchess Alencon, favorite of his wife's sister, died in the charity bazaar fire in Paris.

Responsible for War. Meanwhile, constantly a reminder of tragedy, was the Empress Carlotta, who lost her reason years before when her husband, Emperor Maximilian of Mexico, was executed.

Next a domestic tragedy was when the Archduke John, the emperor's nephew and heir to the throne, renounced his royalty, took the name of John Orth and sailed away with the woman he loved. The earth swallowed him up. He has never been heard from since.

A little later the Archduke William Francis Charles, another of the royal family, died from a hunting fall. Then Archduke Ladislaus was horribly wounded by accidental gun fire. Last of all, his heir, the Archduke Francis Ferdinand, who had been forgiven for contracting a morganatic marriage, was assassinated, with his morganatic wife at Sarajevo, Bosnia. It was on the ground that this assassination was done by Serbians that Austria started the great conflagration of the European war by declaring war on Serbia.
